

Find a course

- Undergraduate Courses
- Search by ATAR
- Postgraduate Courses

Search for domestic courses

Master of Politics and Public Policy

Overview

What you will study

Careers

Profiles

Contact us

Apply

! This information is for domestic students.
View course for international students.

Overview

Develop your understanding of policy formulation, implementation and evaluation with the Master of Politics and Public Policy.

This masters degree will give you a comprehensive understanding of current debates in public policy, including:

- » evidence-based policy
- » accountability
- » federal-state relations
- » globalisation
- » policy transfer
- » political parties
- » citizen engagement.

Key features

- » looks at issues from an Australian perspective and within the context of political science
- » emphasises the politics surrounding public policy, the changing landscape of policy making and Australian public policy
- » current students and graduates include members of parliament, ministerial policy advisers and media advisers

Location	North Ryde (Sydney), Distance
Study mode	Full-time, Part-time
Attendance mode	Internal, External
Minimum course duration	1.5 years (full time)
Commencing	Session 1 (February), Session 2 (July), Session 3 (December)

UAC Code

860753 - On-campus

860754 - by Distance

Suitable for

Whether you're in the private sector but work with government departments, or want to develop a career in public, voluntary or political work – the Master of Politics and Public Policy will further your career.

Our students come from a wide range of countries and professional backgrounds, from public health, Indigenous affairs, education, immigration and taxation to crime control, environmental protection, resource management, community services and human rights.

Minimum admission requirements

- Australian level 7 bachelor's qualification or recognised equivalent in politics, international relations, law, sociology, media, communications, history, cultural studies, or a related discipline
- GPA of 2.50 (out of 4.00)
- Relevant work experience

All applicants for undergraduate or postgraduate coursework studies at Macquarie University are required to provide evidence of proficiency in English.

For more information see English Language Requirements.

You may satisfy the English language requirements if you have completed:

- » senior secondary studies equivalent to the NSW HSC
- » one year of Australian or comparable tertiary study in a country of qualification

MACQUARIE HOME

Study
International

Research
On Campus

About Us
Alumni & Supporters

Business & Community

STUDENT HOME

Courses
Student Admin

Services & Facilities
Information Technology

Support
Opportunities

Campus Life
Notices & Events

STAFF HOME

Human Resources
Services & Facilities

Information Technology
Teaching

Research
Campus Life

About MQ
News & Events